

FUJIFILM

Woman: If you've ever tried to photograph your kids with a one-time-use camera, you probably learned something very quickly.

Woman: Kids never seem to stand still.

Woman: And the film in most one-time-use cameras is just too slow to keep up.

Woman: Not anymore. Because FujiFilm, the company that invented the first one-time-use camera, has just created a camera fast enough...To stop our kids in their tracks...

Woman: And freeze moments like this forever
