

Bass

Here's what I know: the only exciting part of a Basketball game is the final two minutes. And anyone who owns a sport's franchise should be a fan first and then run the team that way. There's a big difference between the right girl and the right now girl.

Music is a religion. Karaoke is a cult.

Well-done is over done.

And if you're going to draw a map of your life...do it in pencil and then redraw it over and over again.

Bass. A taste for more.
